

LETTER OF MISS JENKINS, our new member.

to Fukuuro Machi, Suruga Dai,

Kanda Ku, Tokyo.

June 23, 1921.

My dear Professor Yamamoto,

I appreciate your kindness in extending to me the invitation of the Society of Astronomical Friends to join them, and I accept with pleasure. I would like to know a little more about the Society. How often do the meetings come? Are most of the members of the Society professional astronomers or are they people that are in other business but know something about the sky and are interested in celestial things?

I will be glad to sent you any observations of variable stars that I make, and I appreciate your kindness in offering to have them translated into Japanese. Should any article I might write contain technical terms, or should it be in more ordinary language?

If you are coming to Tokyo soon I hope that we can arrange to see each other. I shall be here until about the middle of next month, at which time I am going to Karuzawa.

Sincerely yours,

Louise F. Jenkins.
