THE ROYAL ORDERS OF BURMA, AD 1598-1885; PART VI, AD 1807-1819

SUMMARY

1 January 1807

Order:

1) Some princes had orchids before the palace had received them; put Kyi Wun - Officer of Granaries, under arrest and ask him to produce the men who made this slight by taking orchids (first) to the princes.

2) Set free Min Kyaw Shwe Daung, Kyi Wun - Officer of Granaries.

3) Take off the figures of Sakka and Garuda from two-into-one barge called Pyi Gyi Mun - Best of the City, and divide it into two barges, each having a Naga - Serpent, figure as its emblem.

4) Two Hlawga boats each having the length of 17 lan / 68 feet / 20.726 metres are now being made; Crown Prince and Prince Pyay shall send carpenters (of their own) to finish them (quickly).

5) Prince Toungoo and Prince Pagan shall send carpenters (of their own) to work on the next two Hlawga boats (each of the same length of a Hlawga mentioned in the above Order).

6) Prince Sagaing shall send carpenters (of his own) to make a Hlawga boat for him and Zayya Kyaw Zwa, Thandaw Sint - Herald, shall supervise the constructions.

This Order was passed on 1 January 1807 and proclaimed by Yaza Nawyatha, Liaison Officer.

2 January 1807

Saddhasuradevapani, Head of the Servants of Religion attached to (Sagaing) Rajamanicula pagoda reported that over a hundred men from the Servants of Religion under him, including Nga Aung Tun, Nga Toke Gyi, Nga Myat, Nga Tha Dun, etc. are now with one noble or another (in order to free themselves from the Service of Religion); when the recalcitrants together with those chiefs who helped them (to abscond from their rightful services) are found, brand them with tattoo marks and send them all to do the religious service.

Hluttaw took up the case and found that in 1783 Record there are 180 persons listed as the Servants of Religion attached to the said pagoda but there are also 220 unlisted men; from these 400, only (120 of the listed) and 120 of the unlisted are working at the pagoda while the remaining 160 are absent.

Order: (1) Add the names of unlisted men in the list of Servants of the Religion in the pagoda stone inscription and no one shall made any objection when these men are sent back to the charge of their former chief at (Sagaing) Rajamanicula pagoda.

(2) Send instructions to Khanti Chief in accordance with the statement made by his men Nga Kyaw Dun; send Nga Kyaw Dun back to his master together with Nga Aung Hla.

This Order was passed on 2 January 1807 and proclaimed by Baya Kyaw Htin, Liaison Officer.

3 January 1807

Order: Nga Khine and Nga Aing of Pyaw Bwe village are exempted from being pressed into service (as fighting men); Nga Thaw, Master of Puppet-Show, shall take charge of them.

This Order was passed on 3 January 1807 and proclaimed by Nga Pa, Liaison Officer.

Order: Min Gyaw Thiha is appointed officer under Prince Mong Mit, Princess Min Gun and Princess Meithila.

This Order was passed on 19 March 1807 and proclaimed by Zayya Nawyatha, Liaison Officer.

Note: Prince Mong Mit and Princess Min Gun were married (see ROB 18 January 1807).

22 March 1807

Order: Pali Daw - Original Texts in Pali of the Buddha's Religion, have been edited with much care to exclude later additions; when some part of them are translated into Burmese, His Majesty detected a few ideas or expressions of the commentaries need reconsideration; learned monks shall go over all these translations again and explain who are responsible for these interpolations (or adulterations) or misinterpretations and why such things had been ignored by a succession of scholars through many generations.

This Order was passed on 22 March 1807 and proclaimed by Zayya Nawyatha, Liaison Officer.

Note: This is certainly a very serious problem. Fortunately we have a note entitled Bodaw Hpaya Ayu Wada - King Badon (1782 - 1819) and His Attitude on Buddhism. The King expressed his opinions at several occasions on different days but the record is dated 23 May 1818.

Bodaw (King Badon, 1782 - 1819) and His Attitude on Buddhism

This is the record of King Badon's remarks on existence and non-existence of life and on the concept of annihilation of this life made during the period from about 1792 (after ten years of his accession to throne) to 23 May 1818 (about a year before his death). All these remarks are from his own thinking and he had had them written down with the belief that they would give some intelligent person something to contemplate upon.

There are four dhātu - elements that control life. They are:

- pathavī - extension
- āpo - cohesion
- tejo - heat and
- vāyo - mobility.

One element helps the formation of another. It is a cycle, explained well in the formation of water to rain. Everywhere the work of these four elements is discernable. For living creatures, there is one more element, i.e. cetasika - mental (in the sense that every creature is capable of thinking). With peace of mind achieved after some contemplation possible in some beings, there are six elements. Add three more natural attitudes, viz.

- kusalādhammā - good nature
- akusalādhammā - bad nature and
- abyākatādhammā - neutral nature.

Now there are nine elements. With feeling and eating it adds up to eleven.

A woman becomes pregnant when she receives a man's sperm in her womb.
The baby is in fact someone who died before the soul of this person gets attached to the body of this baby in the womb. The baby is nourished by food through the mother. When the baby is born, its faith is determined by the good and bad deeds it had done in its former lives. The bad things that everybody should avoid doing are :

- to kill
- to steal
- to commit adultery and
- to tell lies.

On the other hand he must have

- dāna - alms-giving and
- sīlā - virtue.

Succeeding to do these would help a person to obtain the lives of deva or brahma. No nirvana yet. Meditation alone could afford one the bliss of peace in mind which is usually understood as the state of being in nirvana. This peace of mind cannot be destroyed by the said five elements mentioned above. Therefore nirvana is not annihilation. When one is freed from having any desire even for a very short moment, that moment is nirvana. When kingship among men is taken as an immense reward, that is nothing when compared to a moment of the peace in mind. Meditation alone would lead one to nirvana. Mental exercise through ānāpāna - inhalation and exhalation is recommended. Contemplation on the law of impermanence is also good. There are three lakkhanā - characteristics, viz.

anicca - impermanence dukkha - suffering and anatta - selflessness.

We will invariably suffer oldness, sickness and death. Think about it seriously. But that is not about all that there is to be contemplated. Know the reason why these things happen. That will make one to understand the four ariya saccā - noble truths, viz.

dukkha - suffering
dukkhasamudaya - origin of suffering dukkhanirodha - cessation of suffering and dukkhanirodhagaminipatipada - the path leading to the cessation of suffering.

This cessation of suffering even if it were for a few moment is nirvana.

At the moment of enlightenment, the Buddha was sitting under the Bodhi tree. It is a popular story that Mara came with an army to rob the Buddha his seat under the tree. Vasundre - God of Earth (not Vasundri - Goddess of Earth, in Burma version of the story) came to help the Buddha. It is all rubbish. The Buddha had suppressed the five mara or khanda - aggregations, viz.

rupa - matter
vedana - feeling
saññā - perception sankhāra - complexes and viññāna - consciousness.
Pāramī - perfections, are ten in number, viz.

- dāna - alms-giving
- sīla - virtue
- nekkhamma - retirement
- paññā - wisdom
- viriya - energy
- khantī - patience
- saccā - truth
- adhitthāna - resolution
- metta - love and
- upekkha - indifference.

It is just a silly talk to say that for pāramī, the man who would become a Buddha had had his head being cut off or eye being taken out or leg and limb being mutilated in order to give them to anyone who came to ask for them. Allowing oneself to be killed in that way is also murder and if murder could lead a man to the enlightenment, there would be many many more Buddhas who were once hunters and fishermen. And if the Buddha was so generous before in giving things away, he would not refuse his seat under the tree for Mara. Nor he would ask Vasundare to help him against Mara.

We all know that the Buddha ate, slept, visited places and preached with a desire to direct people the way to nirvana. If he had no kilesā - depravity, or tanhā - desire, he would never do these things. On the three kamma - acts, viz.

- kāyakamma - deed
- vacīkamma - speech and
- manokamma - thought,

it is usually taken that kāyakamma is the most sinful one to commit. We should bear in mind that manokamma is at the base of all our talks or doings. These are the record of what His Majesty had said in Sanu - Covered Way between Palace Apartments, on 1 June 1818.

If a few moment of peaceful mind is nirvana, everyone could have nirvana. Learned monks in Burma would not agree to this way of thinking because the Burmese translation of some part of the Pali texts on this point is wrong.

His Majesty quoted a few extracts from the scriptures and pointed out where monks were wrong. Learned monks (called after the name of the monastic establishment where the monk is head) present were:

- Hpaung Daw Gu
- Maha Yaza Thin Gyan (Lu Dwet - Ex-mono)
- Mè Htí
- Mon Daung and Sa Lún.

They said that the King was right. At the same time they admitted that they were afraid to contradict their teachers who made these mistakes long before them.

On arinya ahaṅgika magga - the noble eight-fold path, viz.

- sammiḍitthi - right views
- saṁmāsaṅkappa - right intention
- saṁmāvāca - right speech
- saṁmākammanta - right action
- saṁmājąiva - right living
- saṁmāvāyama - right exertion
- saṁmāsati - right mindfulness and
- saṁmāsamādhī - right concentration.

His Majesty expressed his doubt that these eight are not exactly bhāvanāmagga - path of meditation, and he was of the opinion that maraññussati - recollection of death, is possible without going to a cemetery to look at a dead body in its various stages of decay. To put it more directly without mincing of words, one would not eat his own excreta to realize that part of his body is always in the process of decay.

In sending a boy to the monastery for novitiation, a boy would have his head shaven clean and he would make a request to a monk by saying "Please take the robe that I have brought here and clad me in it so that I can free myself from saṁsāra - Round of Births". That is simply absurd. The dress would not help him in that way. Both the boy and his teacher are stupid. Even the discipline of Monks (called the Vinaya) has no method to terminate the saṁsāra.
Which is more important - the dress or the method? A person of shaven head in a monk's robe is not so much more nearer to nirvana than anyone else. To consider that there are four magga-paths (to nirvana), viz.

sotāpatti - stream-winning sakadāgāmi - once-returning anāgāmi - never-returning and arahatta - saintship

is not correct. There is only one way.

Order:
(1) His Majesty held the Coronation because he wanted to bring about the happiness of his subject people. The people have to pay taxes but he does not want them to pay them in excess. On the other hand there are tax evasions. So all headmen, chiefs of land tracts, etc. are called upon to give full report on the land under their control. If necessary they shall correct the 1783 Records. Kyaw Htin Navyatha is given the responsibility to interrogate all the chiefs who had been summoned to the capital city and they shall return to their respective places immediately after they had been interrogated.

(2) The Pitaka is still in existence. Monks do not faithfully follow the teachings in it. This should not be tolerated. Get all the monks from all parts of the kingdom to assemble here and talk about their way of life in order to detect deviations. In another words, allow only those who live according to prescriptions remain in monkhood; Senior monks (called after the name of the monastery where each presides) present were

Kyauk Sauk
Lawka Hman Gin
Ma Lê
Maha Yaza Thin Gyan (Lu Dwet - Ex-monk)
Mè Hti
Myo Lat Wun
The King asked them their attitude on the statement that 'there are Brahmas who have only bodies and no souls and those who have on bodies but souls only'. They said 'It is impossible. Without body or soul none of them could visit the Buddha with a request to preach'. His Majesty then asked them their attitude on becoming monks without tīsaraṇa - three refuges. Lawka Hman Gìn, Mè Hti Shwe Gyìn and Shin Dè said 'It is impossible'. If so they were asked why they continue to remain in monkhood. They replied: 'Once a monk, it is awkward to leave it. Please allow us to remain in this garb.' His Majesty ordered them to leave the monkhood.

A monk is often called Pañcañ: - One who has the Five Attributes. What are the five? They are commonly believed to consist of

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Attribute</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>vatthu sampatti</td>
<td>the candidate is well qualified</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>āṭṭī sampatti</td>
<td>the candidate has been well informed</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>kammavāca sampatti</td>
<td>the recitation has been well done</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>sīma sampatti</td>
<td>the building is well established</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>parisa sampatti</td>
<td>the ceremony is well attended</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

This belief has no scriptural support. The monks admitted that they had never given this point any serious consideration. His Majesty pointed that the Mahāvā gives the following five requisites.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Requisite</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>sīla</td>

<tr>

Order: Get the Mahāvā and check what are the five attributes for which a a monk would be entitled to use the name of Bazin (Pañcañ:) - One who has the Five Attributes.

This Order was passed on 27 February 1813.

The monks admitted on 1 March 1813 that the King was right in quoting the Mahāvā to get the five attributes correctly.

On another popular belief that to become a Sakka - King of Devas, one should build water reservoirs, bridges and rest houses. His Majesty quoted Kulavaka Jātaka and said that there are seven ways to get the kingship of devas. They are:

looking well after the parents respecting the holy men
speaking with kindness
speaking nothing ill against anyone having no malice against anyone speaking only the truth and suppressing anger.

The monks admitted that they always accepted what they had been told by their elders without question. In another words they never coordinate the information they received so that there remained several point where they were very ignorant.

His Majesty quoted various incidents from the Buddha's Life, Jātaka stories and the Burmese chronicles in support of his attitudes or to refute some popular beliefs. Then he said that Maung Myat Nay should become a Thathanabaing - Guardian of the Sāsanā. There are some points in the Suttanta Desanā - Discourses of the Buddha, where one statement contradicts with the another. His Majesty used the phrase 'chwe: me: - Ponder and ask why? (There are altogether eleven problems).

Problem I

In one Discourse of the Buddha it is mentioned that it pays to try incessantly to get out of a difficulty. In another the advice is to use the brain and wait for a favourable moment to solve the problem. One contradicts the other.

Ponder and ask why?

Problem II

In four indriyaṁ - controlling faculties,

\[ \begin{align*}
\text{saddhā} & \quad \text{faith} \\
\text{viriya} & \quad \text{energy} \\ \text{sati} & \quad \text{mindfulness and} \\ \text{paññā} & \quad \text{wisdom,} \end{align*} \] wisdom is the supreme factor. But sometimes faith is taken as very important.

In another words faith is taken as the controlling factor. Ponder and ask why?

Problem III

What is the connection between dhoti - fortitude, and ambhojajani - brahma?

Ponder and ask why?

Problem IV

Maung La, native of Myo Gyi Byan Hlè, has been given a ministerial post with title Maha Yaza Thin Gyan. He gave a strange explanation to an event in a Jātaka story though Maung Paw U tried to dissuade him by saying that his explanation is not given in the original text of that event. Maung La replied that Athakathā has it. Ponder and ask why?

Problem V

Men and monks of learning had been often asked various problems (on religion and calendar making) but none of them could give any satisfactory answer.

Ponder and ask why?

Problem VI

Charity is good but the degree of acquiring merit would be different between, for instance, feeding a dog and a monk. That is understandable. But in the case of feeding a heretic, it is said that the good man will go to hell for it. It is difficult to comprehend. Ponder and ask why?
Problem VII

In devaloka an incident was mentioned when Sakka took a devi who was not meant for him. That means the fall of devaloka. Ponder and ask why?

Problem VIII

The king (who later became Devadatta) was a tyrant. The people hated him. His son the crown prince (who later became the Buddha) joined a conspiracy to kill the king, his father. A pītughāta - parricide, is considered as one of the six deadly sins. Ponder and ask why?

Problem IX

In a Jātaka, even the bitch knew what would happen soon. It had the power of seeing things ahead. Now we do not have such persons even among the holy people. Ponder and ask why?

Problem X

His Majesty doubted the loyalty of men and monks around him. They were only interested in their own personal gains. Ponder and ask why?

Problem XI

King Asoka had much difficulty to find relics of the Buddha to be enshrined in pagodas built in all the places where he sent the Buddhist missions. Now we have sarīradhātu - bodily relics, a basketful. Ponder and ask why?

There were monks who did not want to become rājavallabha - king's favourite. When Shin Jambudhaja was given various kinds of gift by the king, he dumped them in a pagoda precincts instead of using them himself. It would be a rare phenomenon now-a-days.

There was a controversy that a monk on leaving his monastery should put on a robe covering both shoulders or only his left shoulder. (That is full dress against casual wear). A debate was held on 19 August 1729 at Thudama Zayat in Man Aung Yadana pagoda. 'Left Shoulder Monks' led by Yasa won the debate. King Alaungmintaya (1752 - 1760) also recognized them or patronized them. On 2 December 1809, there was another debate in Amarapura on this controversy. Crown Prince and Maung Myat Nay were absent at this meeting though all princes and ministers attended it. All monks were there too. One very important problem was raised at that meeting. Many religious works were lost and many learned monks were killed because of various wars and some of the lost religious works were rewritten of course though no one had really made a check to know how much were they reliable. In this debate Yasa was defeated. Derobed Yasa was Nga Pan Htwe. He and his group were all punished by being exiled. The kingdom was divided into four divisions and each division was put under one religious leader. The four leaders were:

Khin Gyi Tha of Malè
Khin Gyi Aung Gyaw of Ma O
Khin Gyi San Ya of Wa Yin Doke and Khin Gyi Chet Hpyo of Paw Min.

A committee of twenty one was appointed to help them. The twenty one were:

Khin Gyi Nyo Pu of Myaing
Khin Gyi San Byaw of Mon Daw
Khin Gyi Kyaw Hla of Shwe Nat Taung
Khin Gyi Nga Ab of Pa Laing
Khin Gyi San Tha of Myay Du
Khin Gyi San Hla of Htan Da Bin
Khin Gyi San Hmat of Gado
Khin Gyi Myat Nay of Mon Daung
Khin Gyi Chit Hpyu of Kyauk Kan
Khin Gyi Ywè of Pakhan Sin Dè
Khin Gyi Yaung of Nyaung Gan
Khin Gyi ... of Taing Na
... of San Gyaung
... of Thit Saint Bo Gyaung
U Htway of Sanda Way Thaw Kyaung
U Myat Hpyo of Mahadan Wun Kyaung
U Nyun of Lè Wun Kyaung
Khin Gyi Nga Tha of Wun Dauk Nga Sa Kyaung
Khin Gyi ... of Gado Kyaung Khin Gyi Nga Na of Taung Dwin Wun Gyi Kyaung and
... of Mi Dway Daw Kyaung.

Khin Gyi Myat Nay was made Thathanabaing - Guardian of the Sāsanā.

On 30 January His Majesty asked the monks whether there were any schism among monks and Khin Gyi Myat Nay admitted that he was guilty of causing a schism among the monks recently. He and his associates decided by themselves that they should leave the monkhood. About ten or more monks living on the south of Nga Pi Dan said that they did not really know the tenets of Buddhism they did not learn the scriptures

they did not meditate they only took delight in being given much respect by people and they were very much pleased with having free food, etc.

His Majesty was amused with them. If people feel like giving things to them at their own free will, it was well and good. More monks made similar declarations and joined them. As their number grew, the king was alarmed. Finally the king had to tell them to leave the monkhood. Then they were captured, beaten and put in prison. Some escaped. Some took refuge in the residence of Princess Hinthada (Henzada). Some ex-monks expected that they would be recruited in the King's Service. One group led by Nga Myat of Kyaung Byu rebelled. The rebellion was suppressed though the captured rebels were not executed as they deserved. Sometime later Nga La (Native of Myo Gyi Byan Hlè) was given ten kyats of silver, ten kyats of gold and ten bales of textile and hoping that he would be useful as an adviser, he was given the title of Maha Yaza Thin Gyan and he served the King. Another ex-monk Nga Myat Nay, native of Mon Daung, was given the title of Maha Zayya Thin Gyan together with many worldly possessions. Nga Kan Ya (Lu Dwet - ex-monk) and his associates formed a group of U Boke Saunt - Lay Men who keep a Religious Life. Some had the audacity to say that they would reach nirvana on their death. Only a few important events in connection with religion are recorded here. Remember the following points.

Pariyatti, Patipatti and Pativedha formed the Sāsanā.
Begin with Pariyatti for the prosperity of the Sāsanā.
Learn the Suttanta, obey the Vinaya and work progressively by the Abhidhamma.
24 March 1807

Order: (1) On the left of the Saddan King Elephant's Hall, build an elephant feeding place with bamboo mats painted white.

(2) According to Nay Myo Letya Thuya, Myo Wun - Town Officer, Meghawati (Man Aung), although most of the things received from French sailors were sent to Amarapura, there remain several things in Meghawati (Man Aung) like four cannons each measuring 3 feet 9 inches / 1.143 metre long with a barrel of 3 feet 3 inches / 1 metre circumference and 6 inches / 15.24 cm wide muzzle; two cannons each measuring 3 feet 9 inches / 1.143 metre long with a barrel of 3 feet 3 inches / 1 metre circumference and 4.5 inches / 11.93 cm wide muzzle; two iron anchors and 144 iron cannon balls; send these things also to Amarapura together with ten Frenchmen and leave four cannons each measuring 4 feet 6 inches / 1.3716 metre long with a barrel of 3 feet 1.5 inches / 95.25 cm circumference and 3.75 inches / 8.446 cm wide muzzle, 302 iron cannon balls, 108 packets with grapeshots for Meghawati (Man Aung) defenses.

(3) Summon Saw Mè and Saw Gon to discuss certain problems with Baya Pain Pi San (Thai Minister) here.

This Order was passed on 24 March 1807 and proclaimed by Baya Kyaw Htin, Liaison Officer.

Note: These ten Frenchmen were sent to Amarapura (ROB 1 November 1807); see also ROB 4 January 1807 on Baya Pain Pi San.

25 March 1807

Order: (1) Do not withdraw the forces under the command of Tuyin Thaya Kyaw and officers of Crown Prince Service.

(2) Kyaw Thu Kyaw, Nagan - Liaison Officer, Crown Prince Service, shall march his troops to reinforce the troops under Tuyin Thaya Kyaw.

(3) Maha Kha Nan is now active in Kengtung which is within the Burmese territory; get him subdued; send this Order to Mong Nai commander with Kan Thit Headman who is here from Mong Nai; he shall go back to Mong Nai as quickly as possible.

(4) According to report by Nay Myo Zayya, Myo Wun - Town Officer, Bhamo, the Kachin Chief of Ninety Six Hills is sending his daughter as a Royal Bride to Amarapura; he shall send an escort from Bhamo to Waing Maw where the bride is; when she arrives at Bhamo, Bhamo officers shall take the responsibility to bring her on a barge to Amarapura; report when the bride arrives at Bhamo; send also the list of gifts that she brings with her; send this Order with Nga San Thu, Myo Sayay - Town Constable, who is here from Bhamo.

(5) Cancel the Order to cast an iron pipe for drainage at Aung Myay Lawka pagoda.

(6) The stone brought from the quarry by Shwe Pyi Gunners shall be kept separate on river bank.

(7) Withdraw the Order to summon Saw Me and Saw Gon of Mong Nai; they are in the field with the troops in active service.

(8) Daing Wun - Officer of Land Tracts, shall go and get the sanction from the council of Prince Sagaing, Prince Pyay, Prince Toungoo, Prince Pagan, Prince Pakhan and Prince Mong Mit to send 2,000 men to capture Maha Kha Nan; these 2,000 men shall march via Lin Zin route; Commander of Mong Nai troops shall send 500 to 1,000 men to join this troop to capture Maha Kha Nan; when the mission is over, the troops sent from the capital shall return here.
The provinces of Mong Hli Gyi and Keng Hung Gyi are considered part of the Burmese territory though the Chinese also considered them to be theirs; their chiefs are therefore termed as Hnit Hpet Kyun - Vassals of Both Sovereigns; an appointment of a chief there must be approved by both monarchs; now Kovila from the Thai side invaded Keng Hung, assassinated the Chief of Mong Hli and took away the Hat Seal; this is indeed an insult to both countries and when the Burmese send troops to suppress the marauders, the Chinese simply ignored the whole affair; Nay Myo Min Hla Nayatha shall go to Sung Tu to find out the reason of this Chinese inepitude; send the message to Sung Tu for Royal Approval.

In an escort sent to bring the Cassay Bride, four of the Eight Member Brahmins and twenty of their followers shall accompany it but Nga Pwint, Padanda and fifty of their followers shall not go with it; Daing Wun - Officer of Land Tracts, shall seek the advice of the Council of Prince Sagaing, Prince Pyay, Prince Toungoo, Prince Pagan and Prince Mong Mit on this sending of an escort to Cassay.

Approved the list of 2,000 men sent to arrest Maha Kha Nan.

This Order was passed on 25 March 1807 and proclaimed by Zayya Nayatha, Liaison Officer.

Note: See ROB 17 March 1807 on Tuyin Thaya Kyaw and his forces; see also ROB (8 April 1807), ROB 26 April 1807 and Rob 31 July 1807 on reinforcements sent to troops under Tuyin Thaya Kyaw; the idea of Hnit Hpet Kyun is strange to the modern concept of sovereignty.
27 March 1807

Order: (1) Enlist Pyan Chi Zayya Kyaw and Nga Pay, Clerks of South (Letya) Palace Shields, Theidi Way Thaw, Clerk of South (Letya) Palace Guards, Yaza Waylu and Nga Shwe Yan, Clerks of North (Letwe) Palace Shields, Nga Shwè and Nga Aw, Clerks of North (Letwe) Palace Guards, Yè Gaung Ma Ni, Clerk of East Palace Shields, Nga O, Clerk of East Palace Guards, and Nga U, Clerk of West Palace Guards in the Blood Bond Brotherhood under Si Da Byit Gyi of Middle Blood Bond Brotherhood; made a register of the members of their families and his or her with such details as to name, sex, day on which he or she was born/ relationship to the head of the family.

(2) Men of So Lay Hse Daing - Group Forty Shields, and Daing Kaung Han Zu - Groups of Kaung Han (Burmese Descendants of Chiengmai) Shields, are now scattered; (reorganize them) under Min Gyaw Thiha who is now appointed Kaung Han Wun - Officer of Burmese Descendants from Chiengmai who are now in the Shields; Letya Shwe Daung and Shwe Daung Yanda Kyaw are dismissed from their offices.

This Order was passed on 27 March 1807 and proclaimed by Zayya Nawyatha, Liaison Officer.

28 March 1807

Order: Letwè Zayya Thu, Senior Clerk, shall summon Nga Pwa and Nga Moe Hsway, Town Constables, Yin Gè, to come here as quickly as possible.

This Order was passed on 28 March 1807 and proclaimed by Baya Kyaw Htin, Liaison Officer.

29 March 1807

Order: Learned monks shall elaborate on five causes that would lead to the extinction of the Buddha's Religion.
This Order was passed on 29 March 1807 and proclaimed by Zayya Nawyatha, Liaison Officer.

Note: The five causes leading to no more faith in Buddhism are:

1. There would be no one preaching Buddhism.
2. There would be no more courses explaining the Buddhist texts.
3. There would be no more students learning Buddhism.
4. There would be no more people who would try to remember the principles of Buddhism.
5. There would be no more people practicing the Buddhist way to nirvana.

In another version, the five causes are:

1. People of later generations would not learn Buddhism nor
2. would not talk about it at any length nor
3. would not care to teach it nor
4. would not care to learn it nor
5. would not care to consider it (as anything important).

Yet in another version we find that

1. Buddhist text would have many adulterations.
2. New students would not have any chance to learn Buddhism from its original texts.
3. There are no more eminent teachers of Buddhism.
4. Buddhist leaders would only try to acquire funds to enrich themselves.
5. There appeared many sects quarrelling among themselves.

The disappearance of Buddhism would come in five phases.

1. Pariyatti — learning the Buddhist texts would disappear first.
2. Patipatti — practicing the Buddhist way would be dropped then.
3. Pativedha — doing anything possible to keep the faith would be forgotten.
4. Linga Sasana — marks and signs of the Buddhist Order of Monks would disappear gradually so that a Buddhist monk would appear just like any other ordinary man.
5. The Buddhist relics would disappear for ever.

(from Obhasa 1975, 618)

30 March 1807

Order: (1) Shwe Daung Letwè Kyaw is appointed Myo Wun — Town Officer, Mogaung.

(2) After having suppressed the rebellious Kachin Thein Paw Ayaing Asaing — Kachin Jinphaw Barbarians, around Mogaung, Myo Wun — Town
Officer, Mogaung, shall treat well those who surrendered by giving (some of their leaders) some official responsibilities (like being chiefs of some place or group) with suitable titles.

(3) Myo Wun - Town Officer, Mogaung, shall send some Kyauk Nwa - a species of cattle known as Stone Ox, to Amarapura.

(4) Crown Prince shall return to Amarapura.

This Order was passed on 30 March 1807 and proclaimed by Baya Kyaw Htin, Liaison Officer.

31 March 1807

Order: (1) Envoy Baya Pain Pi San is going back via Chiengmai; give provisions and whatever hospitality necessary to him from all towns and villages along the route; Mong Nai Commander and Officers shall also extend their best regards to the envoy.

Note: See Rob 8 April 1807 on this move to Amarapura.

4 April 1807

Order: Send someone who would know whether a molar tooth relic found in Pauk 0, Taloke township, is genuine or not; Win Kaung Han Wun - Officer of Kaung Han Guards, shall provide the escort (when this party goes to Pauk 0).

This Order was passed on 4 April 1807 and proclaimed by Liaison Officer - cum Chief of Caduceus Bearers.

Note: It is no small wonder that the King who wisely surmised that Pitaka, though claimed to be exclusively of the Buddha's teachings, has in it many later interpolations (ROB 22 March 1807), would suddenly become so obtuse as to expect a chance discovery of a molar tooth in a Burma village would probably be that of the Buddha. Hoping someone might know the difference between a true and false tooth of the Buddha is also absurd.

6 April 1807

Order: (1) Hluttaw shall also contribute its work forces to fill the Thè Daik - Sand Stores, in Pahto Daw Oyi, Min Gun, in order to have it filled with sand as quickly as possible.

(2) Leave 1,500 of the new crop of areca nuts from Toungoo in the Kun Thi Taik - Areca Nuts Stores, and Shwe Daik Wun - Officer of Treasury, shall sell the rest at the current price and deposit the money so realised in treasury.

From
Mong Lhi Sawbwa and Officers

To
Officer attached to Crown Prince

On 3 May 1807, when the Eight Envoys were told about the coming of Chinese Envoys, they were not happy to hear it. We want to know your attitude on this matter. From Mong Khai, Thiri Yan Aung, Sitkè - Regimental Officer, reached here on 16 May 1807. Nga Shin Shi, from Sung Tu, came to us on 14 May 1807. The letter be brought mentioned that Kovila had taken the Sung Seal and one of his officers called Baya Lon Kun Mong took the seal together with several gifts to Mong La.

On 18 May 1807 a letter from Ming Ling Bu was received in Mong Lhi. It says that officers of Kovila, Chiengmai, viz. Baya Lon Kun Mong and Baya Thiri Ko came to them with the seal of Kenghung. It also reminds them to make their defences strong. This letter was brought by Thiri Kyaw Zwa who came from Nay Myo Zayya, Myo Wun - Town Officer, Bhamo. Hluttaw received it on 5 October 1807 and Thiwa Yama Kyaw Htin, Tayoke Tan Gaung - Head of China Town, translated it into Burmese. There is also a letter which the translators could not do the translation satisfactorily. All they could say is that Pe Ta Yi of Sung Tu send this information that one man who introduced himself as an envoy from Burma came to them on (6) May 1807. Although he had a letter on palm-leaf, there was no name of the author on it. So they were reluctant to accept the fact that he came from any important Burmese officer.

7 October 1807

- the way of Mo Hti Hman Zi
- the way of Nga Mya and Ton
- the way of Pwè Gyaung.

This Order was passed on 8 November 1807 and proclaimed by Zayya Nayatha, Liaison Officer.

Note: This Order giving freedom to adopt any sect of Buddhism is not a surprise to anyone who knows the King's attitude on Buddhism. When one has renounced the world he need not have any other restrictions. As a matter of fact, it was the monks who were not so tolerant as the King; 'the way of Pwè Gyaung' is, I think, one sect of Mahayana in Burma and it was effectively weeded out together with 'the way of Nga Mya and Ton' inspite of the King's express Order that they were given a chance to revive. See Appendix to ROB 22 March 1807 on King Badon's attitude on Buddhism.

9 November 1807

Order: Bury the father of Thiha Bala Kyaw Htin, Akyee - Elder, attached to Prince Hlaing, as the mother of Sithu Yaza Kyaw Htin, Than Daw Zint - Herald, was buried.

Order:(1) Sithu Yaza is appointed Wun Dauk - Assistant Minister, because he appreciates well the help he receives he is loyal he is sincere
he is honest
he is hardworking he is the man the King trusts and he is expected to assist and prompt the ministers;
as a Wun Dauk - Assistant Minister, he is expected to do the following:

the King's ministers have all kinds of Pyi Yay Ywa Hmu - Affairs of the Capital City as well as the Cases from Villages; these affairs should be tackled with care so that their decision on each case would not contradict the precedent and it would be taken as a good precedent for future; as their duties are most extensive, they might possibly forget quite often to carry out a few important things; then a Wun Dauk - Assistant Minister, must remind the Wun - Minister, of a certain case that they should consider and it is his duty to submit in full the case history plus references to former cases of similar nature and decisions passed on them and Royal Orders that bear special reference to such a case; Hluttaw and Yon Daw are places where the King's subjects could apply for redress of their various grievances; a Wun Dauk - Assistant Minister, takes his office at these courts and gives all possible help to people in distress so that no one is ill-treated by anyone;

when reports from the provinces arrive at Hluttaw, they should be studied carefully first by verifying the statements wherever necessary and apply for instructions either to His Majesty or to anyone of the Ministers;

although all the King's ministers and officers are doing their duties with diligence, it is not impossible that there is either a slight or serious negligence and if and when such a thing happens, a Wun Dauk - Assistant Minister, should bring it to light so that it should be remedied as quickly as possible before any dire results would occur;

execute the Royal Orders guided by such principles of Dama Wut - Duties toward the Religion
Yaza Wut - Duties toward the King and Lawka Wut - Duties toward the Society.

This Order was passed on 25 October 1808 and proclaimed by Yaza Nayatha, Liaison Officer - cum - Chief of Black Beret Guards.

24 May 1809
In Mi Min Hla vs Shwe Daung Yan Ngu Kyaw Zwa, Shwe Daung Yan Ngu Kyaw Zwa sued Mi Min Hla, widow of his father Letwè Win Hmu - Chief of North Palace Guards, for inheritance. Letwè Win Hmu - Chief of North Palace Guards, first married Hnin Bin, mother of Shwe Daung Yan Ngu Kyaw Zwa. After divorcing Mi Hnin Bin, he married Mi Myat and Mi U. Then he married Mi Min Hla. Before he died he had given his son Shwe Daung Yan Ngu Kyaw Zwa 40 viss of silver and a rice land where 200 baskets of seeds are sown each year to grow paddy. It virtually means that Shwe Daung Yan Ngu Kyaw Zwa had had his share of inheritance from his father. Mi Min Hla has a daughter with Letwè Win Hmu - Chief of North Palace Guards. On the death of Mi Min Hla, this daughter alone shall inherit Mi Min Hla.

25 January 1810

Order: Conduct a marriage ceremony according to the Purehajdarpana - True Manual of Purohita.

This Order was passed on 25 January 1810 and proclaimed by Baya Kyaw Htin, Liaison Officer - cum - Chief of Caduceus Bearers.

Note: In a marriage ceremony, the usual practice is to put bridegroom's hand in the palm of bride's hand; and according to Purehajdarpana, it is not correct. Put the 'giving hand' of the bride into the 'begging hand' of the bridegroom. Then bind both hands in a handkerchief and pour water over them.

(Tin: Okkhyok III 1970, § 394 h, 127) This was for the members of the Royal Family. For the common people no ceremony is necessary; customary law says that when a man and woman live together and are recognized by neighbours as man and wife, they are taken as the same as a legally wedded couple.

From
Nay Myo Min Hla Nayyatha
Sawbwa
Bhamo
To

Commanders and Town Officers

Maing Hsi, Sung Tu, Wun Sin and Mo Yè

On 31 October 1810 envoys from China, viz.

Kyi Ta Lo Yè (Queen's Father)
Saw Lon Son
San Shi Yè and
Pe Yi Yè

arrived at Bhamo with tributes (to His Majesty of Burma). When they were asked the purpose of their visit they replied that like Sung Tu chief who became a Burmese subject and was given the Burmese title of Maha Thiha Thuya, they wanted to serve the Burmese king. On considering that the two kingdoms of Burma and China have been in good and long lasting friendship, subordinate of one king could well be taken as the subordinates of another king. In China there was a change of Emperor in 1795 and the Burmese King agreed to continue the friendship with the new Chinese King. In 1805 Burmese envoys Nay Myo Nanda Kyaw Htin and Nay Myo Zayya went to China. Unfortunately they were not taken to the Chinese King. In the meanwhile there was trouble in Kyaing Yon Gyi where the chief was a chief recognized by both Burma and China. Rebels helped by Kovila (of Chiengma) and Maha Khanan (of Kengtung). Maing Hli Chief Taw Swa Kon was killed. When the Burmese troops arrived, the Chinese said that the Mekhaung river is the boundary and the Burmese land is on the west of the river. They should not come to the eastern side of it which is Chinese. If that is correct, Hotha, Latha, Moda, Santa, and Kaingma are Burmese. Why are they taken as Chinese? They should be careful in saying things. Now the envoys are headed by the father of Chinese Queen and their purpose of visit is in the name of friendship. They would be received well in Bhamo but they should have letters stating more definitely the nature of their mission from more competent authorities. The most important thing is to keep the friendship between the two kingdoms of Burma and China strong and everlasting.

This letter was submitted on 11 December 1810 by Liaison Officer who holds Yay Ga village in fief, for Royal Approval.

Note: See also ROB 13 December 1810 and ROB 25 December 1810 on Burma China relations.

12 December 1810

Order: Nga Hmon is appointed Myo Ok - controller of Town, Yamethin; he shall suppress crime in the area under him by destroying all thieves and robbers.

This Order was passed on 12 December 1810 and proclaimed by Zayya Nawyatha, Liaison Officer.

13 December 1810

Order: (1) When Awk Ma Wun - Officer of Catching Elephants, prepares to go for capturing a white elephant in Hlaing by Order (ROB 8 December 1810), he found that men and animals he needs for the expedition have been employed in palace constructions; he is given permission to take all men and animals he wants.

(2) On the sand bank where the Royal Shampoo Ceremony is to be held, construct a line of posts along the water edge at 1 ta / 7 taung / 10.65 feet / 3.2004 metres interval from the north of pavilion for Shampoo Ceremony to the north of (Min Gun) palace and fix green leaves on each post.

(3) Nga No, Nga Po, Nga Myat Htway of Amarapura hold a licence of trade along the Myitngè, Samon, Sama, Htom Gyi and Panlaung rivers using Pain Gaw - Flat Bottomed Barges, and they pay annually a fixed sum of five viss of silver through Thiri Theinga; they are now to take orders from Nay Myo Yaza Kyaw Thu, Za Daw Gè - Royal Cook, and as it is prescribed in 1783 Record, they shall pay annually twenty (viss) of silver; Thiri Theinga deposited the money he received so far from the licensees but he shall stop dealing with them from now onward.

( 4) As reported by Thiri Sithu and Thu Yain Kyaw Gaung who are Sitkè - Regimental Officers, Bhamo, there are dues collected at and there are also other revenues and Day Wun taxes; this situation of 'over-taxation' shall be corrected by Sawbwa - Chief, Bhamo and his officers and send the revenue to Treasury as usual.

( 5) Letter from Bhamo Chief to Commanders of Sung Tu, etc. is approved.

( 6) Judges and Amway Wun - Officer of Inheritance, do not know the fundamental of law; dismiss them from their respective offices;
make a list of those who know law and submit it.

This Order was passed on 13 December 1810 and proclaimed by Liaison Officer who holds Yay Ga village in fief.

Note: Day Wun is Arabian diwan meaning 'a register of accounts' or a raised seat where accountants used to sit but in Burma it seems that an officer who held a licence to collect on selling and buying of certain goods like liquor, oil, opium, oil, tea, etc. would be called by the name of Day Wun.

See ROB 11 December 1810 on the letter from Bhamo to Sung Tu.

13 December 1810

Report on Chinese Envoys now in Bhamo

Maing Hsi, Sung Tu, Wun Sin, Mo Myè Town Officers and Commanders sent their envoys with some tributes.

They said Maha Thiha Thuya is the title given by the Burmese King to the Town Officer at Sung Tu. Similarly they want to serve the Burmese King. The present mission is headed by Kyi Ta Lo Yè (Queen's Father). Inspite of some border troubles recently they want to show that they remain loyal to the Burmese king. They also want to explain the events and revenue any misunderstanding, if there were any, between the two countries. The envoys are treated with all possible hospitalities and they are waiting for old records on Burma China relations from Maing Hsi.

Order: When the said letters from China arrived, request permission to allow the Chinese envoys to proceed from Bhamo to the Royal Prescence.

Liaison Officer who holds Yay Ga village in fief, submitted (the Report on Chinese envoys) on 13 December 1810.

Note: See Letter from Bhamo Chief to Maing Hsi Town Officer, etc. on 11 December 1810.

Audience, and His Majesty said that an instruction must be sent to Bhamo Chief.

Copy of Instruction to Bhamo Chief

From
Min Nay Myo Thiha Thu

To
Nay Myo Min Hla Nayatha

When the Chinese envoys from Maing Hsi, Sung Tu, Win Sin, Mo Myè were asked why they come, they said:

Maing Hsi Sung Tu (Town Officer) Thu Ta Yi and Commander Ti Ta Yi served Their Majesties of Burma so well that the title of Maha Thiha Thuya was conferred upon (Thu Ta Yi). Later on (Maing Hsi Sung Tu Town Officer) Pe Ta Yi was unfortunate to have been unable to continue the good relations. Now he made this attempt by sending Kyi Ta Lo Yi (Queen's Father). There was, of course, some border trouble recently and that led to a misunderstanding for nearly ten years. This should be corrected. We have every hope that our mission would be successful.

To get things straight the Chinese envoys are told to get proper letters from China and give them to Thiri Sithu, Sitkè - Regimental Officer, Bhamo. When the envoys return, Burmese counterparts will go with them. Nay Myo Min Hla Nayatha, Sawbwa, Bhamo, is given authority to manage this affair to get the utmost benefit out of it. On 25 December 1810 the following are sent to Bhamo.

1 One letter from Sawbwa, Bhamo, to Town Officer and Commander, Maing Hsi Sung Tu as approved by His Majesty
2 Eight letters on various affairs from Sung Tu Town Officer and Commander
3 Instructions under sealed cover to Sawbwa, Bhamo

Letwe Zayya Kyaw and Kyaw Htin Yaza, Sayay Daw Gyi - Senior Royal Clerks, asked permission from Thiri Nanda Kyaw, Wun Dauk - Assistant Minister, and Athi Wun - Officer of Common Folks, and Sithu Yaza, (Wun Dauk - Assistant Minister) that they would be allowed to send the above mentioned letters, etc. to Bhamo. With the permission of the Assistant Ministers, the said things were given to the Regimental Officer by the Senior Royal Clerks on 25 December 1810.
