● the origin

故 永田先生 故 宮田先生

Miyata got married to a daughter of Tsutaya Inn

Found the inn available for symposia on weekdays suggested to Nagata to take advantage and organized symposia

AG symposia held every year since 1974

Nagata attended all the AG symposia before he passed away on Aug.27.2008

Topic and participants from wide-ranging related fields

Miyata also organized symposia in number theory, topology and representation theory

Accomplishments

Initially not many algebraic geometers in Japan one room or the dining hall of Seirantei sufficed

Kinosaki AG symposia led to:

- Nation-wide network of algebraic geometers
- face-to-face encounters leading to joint works
- Nation-wide mobility of algebraic geometers

Promising young people were invited to give talks

Nagata supported their travel even when Grants-in-Aid were not widely available

7

Another important contribution by:

Nightly “symposium” (in ancient Greco-Roman sense) at the entrance hall of Seirantei

a convivial meeting, usually following a dinner, for drinking and intellectual conversation 饗宴

Participants get to know one another well

Thanks to Miyata’s connection:

Tsutaya allows beverages to be brought in, even provides glasses and ice cubes
